Report on Public Health and Hygiene Workshop

Date of Workshop: 30th June 2018

Pravara Medical Trust Arts, Commerce and Science College, Shevgaon

Department of Zoology

A workshop on Public Health and Hygiene was organized by the Department of Zoology, Pravara Medical Trust Arts, Commerce and Science College, Shevgaon, on the 30th of June, 2018. The workshop was a part of the syllabus framing initiative and aimed at enhancing the understanding of public health and hygiene, focusing on practical knowledge and health-related issues. To create awareness about the importance of public health and hygiene in communities. To educate participants on the vital role of hygiene in preventing diseases. To discuss the challenges and solutions related to public health in rural and urban settings. To update the syllabus for the students of the Zoology department, focusing on health-related topics. Prof. Miss. Naik V.P. – Head of Department, Zoology Prof. Dr. Kasar R.K. – Subject Expert Prof. Dr. Sherkhane U.D. – Subject Expert from other College Prof. Dhadage K.S. – Course Coordinator Prof. Paratwagh M.B. – Certificate Course Coordinator

The workshop was primarily led by the Syllabus Framing Committee for the Certificate Course in Public Health and Hygiene. This committee played a crucial role in designing a comprehensive course that would equip students with knowledge about hygiene practices, health awareness, and its relevance in their personal and community lives. The committee members included Prof. Miss. Naik V.P. Head of Department, Zoology, who facilitated the workshop and coordinated discussions. Prof. Dr. Kasar R.K. Subject Expert, who contributed valuable insights from a scientific and academic perspective. Prof. Dr. Sherkhane U.D. Subject Expert from another institution, adding a broader, external viewpoint to the course content. Prof. Dhadage K.S. Course Coordinator, ensuring the practical alignment of the syllabus with the health needs of the local community. Prof. Paratwagh M.B. Certificate Course Coordinator, who oversaw the practical elements of the certificate course and provided hands-on training during the workshop.

The workshop was well-received by students, faculty, and the local community, with a focus on practical knowledge and skill-building related to public health and hygiene. The following topics were discussed Basic Principles of Public Health. This session introduced participants to the core principles of public health, such as disease prevention, health promotion, and the importance of environmental factors in maintaining good health. Personal Hygiene Practices Detailed discussions on the importance of personal hygiene in preventing diseases, including handwashing, dental hygiene, and sanitation practices. Community Health Initiatives: The workshop highlighted various community health programs, with an emphasis on preventive care, vaccination, and nutrition. Environmental Health: Participants learned how environmental factors, such as clean water, waste management, and pollution, impact public health. Role of Government and NGOs. An overview of the efforts by the government and non-governmental organizations (NGOs) in improving public health and hygiene, especially in rural areas. Emerging Health Issues: The workshop also covered emerging health issues such as epidemics, lifestyle diseases, and the need for modern solutions in public health practices.

The workshop on Public Health and Hygiene was a significant step towards improving health awareness among students and the local community. The Zoology Department of Pravara Medical Trust Arts, Commerce, and Science College, Shevgaon, successfully organized the event, which not only contributed to academic knowledge but also created an environment of awareness regarding practical health practices. The collaborative efforts of the faculty, experts, and course coordinators ensured that the workshop was both informative and engaging. This initiative is expected to lead to an updated and comprehensive syllabus that will continue to educate students on the importance of hygiene and public health in their daily lives.
